CONTENT, STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES, OUT-OF-CLASS ASSIGNMENTS

Curriculum Approval Date: 04/28/2014

4 HOURS

CONTENT: Learn about the class goals and objectives via the course outline; take part in ice-breaking activities; listen to college orientation given by college advisor; introduce weekly conversation groups and half groups for extended speaking practice; begin the course text.

HOMEWORK: Skim and scan the textbook for class content.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: Familiarize themselves with the structure, content, and objectives of the class; meet other students and acquaint themselves with new instructor. Learn about the offerings of the college.

16 HOURS

CONTENT: Learn new vocabulary and identify it through practice with various listening activities (listening for main idea, specific information, making inferences through context) with follow-up comprehension check and small and/or large group discussion; take notes; use theory of reduced and stressed forms as a strategy to find important information in the aural passage; participate in speaking activities which require use of new vocabulary, some done chorally, others done in pairs or in small groups, depending on the exercise; follow-up is achieved through larger group or whole group discussion; learn and practice the difference in pronunciation of the /s/ sound as it is used in plural nouns and in the third person singular present tense verb; learn about and practice reduced forms (I dunno) and stressed words; review stress with the pronunciation of tens/teens (seventy/seventeen); learn about change in stress when using can/can't; participate in brief, impromptu half-group discussion/presentation with the instructor and an ESL assistant; use computer software or the internet to improve listening/speaking skills or practice pronunciation; OR follow directed pronunciation practice by instructor, targeting, for example, difficult minimal pairs (live/leave, throw/toe), or grouping and introducing sounds by how they are made, such as stop and continuant sounds. The four week cycle ends with a test.

HOMEWORK: Go to weekly conversation group. Speaking activities allow for further practice using vocabulary and similar or related themes that have been learned in class. In addition, students use the ESL Computer Lab to continue practice of listening and/or speaking skills. Review for test.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: learn new topical vocabulary; practice listening for main idea, detail, and inferences; take notes; use new vocabulary in speaking activities; improve pronunciation; demonstrate skills learned through the test taking process.

8 HOURS

CONTENT: Repeat a cycle as described above which includes proportionate vocabulary, listening, and speaking activities; take notes of various types. In addition, students distinguish and practice the varied pronunciations of the -ed form (/ld/, /t/, /id/) of the past tense; listen to a guest lecture given by a reference librarian on how to find information for the first oral presentation (possible first topic: an invention).

HOMEWORK: Go to the weekly conversation group. Speaking activities allow for further practice using vocabulary and similar or related themes that have been learned in class. In addition, students use the ESL Computer Lab to continue practice of listening and/or speaking skills; prepare oral presentation/visual aid.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: learn new topical vocabulary; practice listening for main idea, detail, and inference; take notes; use new vocabulary in speaking activities; improve pronunciation; learn more about how to use the internet to find information; prepare notes for a presentation.

5 HOURS

CONTENT: Presentation of oral reports.

HOMEWORK: Go to the weekly conversation group. Speaking activities allow for further practice using vocabulary and similar or related themes that have been learned in class. In addition, students use the ESL Computer Lab to continue practice of listening and/or speaking skills.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: To be able to give a five minute oral presentation and to listen to peer presentations responsibly; ask questions.

8 HOURS

CONTENT: Repeat the previous cycle with inclusion of a proportionate number of vocabulary, listening and speaking activities; add listening skill of drawing conclusions from taped material and summary of information; take notes; include intonation practice of tag questions (You do work, don't you?) and exclamations (I won the lottery!). The cycle ends with a test.

HOMEWORK: Go to the weekly conversation group. Speaking activities allow for further practice using vocabulary and similar or related themes that have been learned in class. In addition, students use the ESL Computer Lab to continue practice of listening and/or speaking skills; review and study for the test.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: learn new topical vocabulary; practice listening for main idea, detail, inference, and conclusion; take notes; summarize information; use new vocabulary in speaking activities; improve pronunciation; demonstrate skills by taking and passing the test.

CONTENT: Repeat the learning cycle of vocabulary, listening and speaking activities over a four week period; include in the pronunciation unit dropping the /h/ sound in most words and the pronunciation of /t/ in English; prepare for another oral presentation. This cycle ends with a test.

HOMEWORK: Go to the weekly conversation group. Speaking activities allow for further practice using vocabulary and similar or related themes that have been learned in class. In addition, students use the ESL Computer Lab to continue practice of listening and/or speaking skills; find necessary information to prepare for the second oral presentation (possible second topic: a famous person); review and study for the test.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: learn new topical vocabulary; practice listening for different kinds of information; use new vocabulary in speaking activities; show understanding of material by taking and passing test; find information, prepare notes to give a five-minute presentation.
