CONTENT, STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES, OUT-OF-CLASS ASSIGNMENTS
Curriculum Approval Date: 09/26/2016

4 HOURS
CONTENT: Learn about class goals and objectives; participate in ice-breaking activities; listen to an orientation given by a college advisor; introduce weekly conversation groups and half groups for extended speaking practice; begin course text.

HOMEWORK: Study assigned parts of the class textbook and prepare self-introduction.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: Familiarize themselves with the structure, content, and objectives of the class; meet other students and acquaint themselves with the new instructor; learn about college offerings.

16 HOURS
CONTENT: Students will complete a cycle of activities beginning with a focus on listening activities and strategies: learn new vocabulary and identify it through practice with various listening activities; listen for main ideas, specific information, and drawing inferences; complete with comprehension check in small or large group discussion; use understanding of stressed words to interpret speaker feelings; use theory of stressed words, reductions and contractions to distinguish important ideas in the aural passage; use indentation, abbreviations, and symbols while taking notes. Then students will continue the cycle concentrating on speaking activities and strategies: participate in speaking activities which require use of new vocabulary in pairs or small group with follow-up in whole group discussion; practice speaking using contractions and reductions; use English expressions to express feelings; review requirements for a short presentation based on a CNN report. The cycle will be completed with a focus on guided, impromptu half-group discussion and conversation with the instructor and tutors OR extended listening and/or pronunciation practice using audiovisual material or computer software.

HOMEWORK: Attend small weekly conversation groups for extended practice with themes and skills learned in class. Begin completion of recommended sequence of lab activities that focus on listening skills and strategies using audiovisual material or computer software; listen to CNN report and prepare a summary; practice delivery of report. End cycle with a test.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: learn new vocabulary; find main idea, detail and inference in listening passage; demonstrate ability to differentiate relationship of ideas by correct placement of ideas in note-taking; make use of abbreviations and symbols to facilitate note-taking; use new vocabulary in conversation; use English sentence intonation, using stressed words, reductions, and contractions; prepare notes for an oral presentation. Take test successfully.

CONTENT: Presentation of oral reports.

HOMEWORK: Go to the weekly conversation group. Speaking activities allow for further practice using vocabulary and similar or related themes that have been learned in class. In addition, students use the ESL Computer Lab to continue practice of listening and/or speaking skills.
STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: To be able to give a five minute presentation on a CNN report and to listen to peer presentations responsibly; ask questions.

16 HOURS

CONTENT: Repeat the cycle of activities listed previously including proportionate vocabulary, listening and speaking activities. Review requirements for short classroom presentations (ex: interview findings, TV show); Continue listening for stressed words to distinguish important ideas in the passage; recycle and expand on reductions; build on note-taking skills/transition words as a means to move from one main point to the next; expand on expressions to show feeling. End cycle with a test.

HOMEWORK: Attend small weekly conversation groups for extended practice with themes and skills learned in class. Continue recommended sequence of lab activities that focus on listening skills and strategies using audiovisual material or computer software; interview a person and prepare a summary of the information; watch a TV show or movie and prepare a summary; practice delivery of reports; review concepts of text to prepare for test.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES: Learn new vocabulary; practice listening for main idea and detail; demonstrate ability to differentiate relationship of ideas by correct placement of ideas in note-taking; use new vocabulary in conversation; use correct English sentence intonation and expression, using stressed words, reductions, and contractions. Give a short presentation to the class. Take test successfully.
