The project has the potential of offsetting 75% of our energy usage. The Fairview Corners revised IPaC was submitted last week based on the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service comments. The Facilities Master Plan will go through participatory governance February and March and then to the Board. The Special Obligation Bond meeting with Stradling Attorneys at Law and TBWB Strategies will take place tomorrow. The general group consensus supports the Bond. Dr. Wruck spoke to the committee about the Fall Enrollment 2017 Student Success Score Card. Discussion took place regarding if the State average is high enough and evaluating if that translates into success for our students. A question arose that was prompted by Rachel Perez's recent attendance at a CCLC Workshop in November about Latino males being a vanishing breed at the community colleges. The Advisory Committee questioned Dr. Wruck if Gavilan data confirms this. Further discussion revealed that males in general are not doing well. The discussion outcome was that the vocational programs and academic completion rates need to be looked at regarding males. Discussion also took place regarding working more with our feeder high schools to improve program collaboration. Jennifer Tomasello spoke about the DACA enrollment decrease. Rachel Perez stated that President Trump made an announcement that he wants to make DACA reform a priority.

After grad school he had the opportunity of teaching at San Jose State and experiencing the first degree of separation and improving people's lives. His life goal is to use his skills and talents to better the lives of those around him. This year is a big year with lots of goals. He clarified that he represents every constituent and student.
