Final Exam: Lecture and text.

Assignments:
Each week the student will read assigned chapters and complete appropriate assignments to meet the one-to-two lecture out-of-class standard.

Methods of Instruction:
The text is used as a resource book rather than the subject of the lectures. Additional theoretical material and practical advice is given by lectures. There will be written exams on the textbook and the lectures but emphasis is on performance rather than theory. Throughout most of the course, the lecture is generally in the hands of the students with the instructor constantly available for advice, assignments, motivation, and criticism and evaluation. Generalized topics, speech types, or communicative situations are assigned by the instructor. The preparation and delivery of the speeches are the responsibility of the student. Critical analysis, some verbal and some written, is made of each presentation. Whenever a grade is involved, the critical analysis is given to the student in writing.

Out of Class Assignments:
Required Outside Hours: 80
Assignment Description:
Preparation, Research, Outlining, and Practicing of Speeches
Speech 1 Collage Speech
Students are required to prepare a slide show presentation/collage and present an introductory speech about oneself.
Speech 2 Demonstration Speech
Students will research, organize and deliver a hands on presentation demonstrating a process that produces a particular outcome.
Speech 3 Informative Speech
Students receive a TIME or National Geographic Magazine and are required to read the cover story and deliver an informative speech on the topic. In addition to reading the article, students are required to find four additional credible resources and type an outline with works cited page, practice, prepare a slide show presentation, and present.
Students will be paired up and assigned a controversial public policy issue which they will be required to meet, work together, research, prepare, and practice a debate that they will deliver against an opposing team in class. Extensive research and practice will be required to execute a strong debate which will be evaluated and judged on by peers. Meeting with a partner to prepare for a persuasive debate is necessary for both the oral and written communication requirements. The pair will prepare a typed outline with source citations and deliver the speech in person on the day of their presentation debating the opposing team on the same topic, but opposing viewpoint.
