A Guide to Transition
A Guide to Transitioning from High School to College

This publication is designed to help students with disabilities transition from high school to college. It will guide students, parents, teachers and administrators as they begin planning for college. Checklists may be duplicated for student use or for program planning. We hope that students will be “Catching the Wave” from high school to college.

Laws that Protect the Rights of Adults with Disabilities

Anti-Discrimination

TITLE VI (CIVIL RIGHTS ACT OF 1964)
Prohibits discrimination based on race, color, or national origin in all employment situations involving programs or activities aided by federal financing.

TITLE VII (CIVIL RIGHTS ACT OF 1964)
Prohibits job discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex or national origin in all employment.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT OF 1990
Extends universal civil rights protections to individuals with disabilities covering public and private sector employment, public accommodations, transportation, and telephone communication.

Educational Access

SECTION 504 (REHABILITATION ACT OF 1973)
“No otherwise qualified handicapped individual in the United States shall, solely by reason of his/her handicap, be excluded from the participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance....”

SECTION 508 (THE WORKFORCE INVESTMENT ACT OF 1998 AMENDMENT TO THE REHABILITATION ACT OF 1973)
Section 508 requires federal agencies that develop, procure, maintain, or use electronic technology to provide to federal employees with disabilities comparable access to that technology and information that federal employees without disabilities are afforded.

SENATE BILL 105
SB 105 mandates that Section 508 accessibility standards be implemented in the state of California.

CALIFORNIA COLLEGE CHANCELLOR’S OFFICE LEGAL OPINION M 03-09
In March 2003, the General Counsel of the California Colleges Chancellor’s Office issued Legal Opinion M 03-09, which states that Section 508 applies to California community colleges. This means that information technology developed, purchased, or licensed by California community colleges must comply with the requirements of Section 508.

ASSEMBLY BILL 422 OF 1999
AB 422 requires publishers to provide electronic forms of college instructional materials in a timely manner and at no additional cost for students with print related disabilities, for example, blind, low-vision, and learning disabled.

Confidentiality

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA) OF 1974
All students over the age of 18 are free to access their own student records, request changes to their student records, and “to have some control over the disclosure of personally identifiable information from these records.” Parents of children over the age of 18 are not permitted to access their child’s student records, as protected under FERPA.

Transition Goals Checklist

The following activities are organized in a checklist format and can be used in planning transition goals during the IEP process or when writing 504 Plans. Use the Glossary at the back to help you understand the special disability vocabulary you need to learn.

Middle School Transition Goals Checklist:

Find Out More about Your Disability

1. Name your disability and describe how it affects your learning.
2. Identify your strengths in learning and how these strengths will help you in school.
3. Identify learning strategies
   a. Identify accommodations for learning, e.g., use of tape recorder, note taking assistance, test accommodations and assistive technology.
   b. Develop and use memory strategies to remember information.
   c. Learn to work with classmates, contact them with questions that you have and form study groups.
   d. Identify test-taking strategies for multiple choice, fill-in and essay tests.

Learn How to Advocate for Yourself

1. Attend all your education planning meetings, e.g., IEP, 504 Plan, and Transition Plan.
2. Ask questions when you don’t understand something.
3. Develop problem solving strategies
   a. Identify possible social problems you have in school and possible solutions.
   b. Identify possible educational problems in school and possible solutions.
   c. Develop a list of people who can help you solve these problems.

Develop a Personal Information File

- Be aware of where your educational records, social security card, and birth certificate are kept at home.

Investigate Possible Careers

- Identify possible career interests and education needed for them.
High School Transition Goals Checklist

During the first two years of high school...

1. Continue to learn how to advocate for yourself.
2. Learn more about your disability and what it takes for you to succeed.
3. Start learning about laws that affect and support students with disabilities e.g., the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Section 504.
4. Think about possible colleges you may want to attend.

Prepare for College Entrance Examination (Four-year colleges only)

1. Identify what test(s) need to be taken.
2. Study for the entrance exam (PSAT, SAT, ACT). Use the study guides and/or enroll in SAT or ACT preparatory program(s) if possible.
3. Find out what accommodations are available for entrance exams.

JUNIOR

Increase Your Knowledge About Your Disability

1. Review the goals of your transition plan in your IEP or your 504 Plan.
2. Use your self advocacy skills during your IEP meeting.

Take the College Entrance Examination (Four-year colleges only)

1. Ask your high school counselor about preparations for college entrance examinations. Apply early and request academic accommodations on application(s) for tests.
2. Begin taking exams as early as possible. This gives you time to retake exams, if permitted.

Select the College(s) You Are Interested in Attending

1. Plan to visit college(s). Include disability and other support services in your visitation.
2. Learn about the types of services and accommodations that may be available to you.
3. Based on your investigation, pick the college(s) you feel have the academic programs that match your interests and will provide the services you need to be successful.
4. If you cannot visit in person, visit the college’s website or contact the college by phone.
SENIOR

Select the College(s) To Which You Will Apply (Do this in the Fall Semester)

1. Request an application from the college(s) or visit the college(s) website and apply online. Submit all applications and forms by due dates.

2. Identify the written verification you will need to request services and accommodations in college. If you have a learning disability and you are at least 17 years old, you may request adult testing from your high school using the WAIS III or the WJ-III Cognitive.

Apply For Financial Aid

1. In January, pick up a financial aid packet from your high school counselor’s office. Complete the application and turn it in or visit http://www.fafsa.ed.gov/

2. Contact the college or university you want to attend, local service clubs, state and national organizations, and search the local library and Internet for more information on scholarships.
You’ve Been Accepted to College

1. Apply to the college disability support office to request services. Bring your most recent IEP to the office.

2. Provide current written verification of your disability signed by an appropriate professional. This must include the name of your disability, functional limitations, and academic accommodations you have received in the past.

3. Some college placement exams may be offered at your high school or at the college. Request accommodations on the placement exam.

4. Make an appointment to meet with a staff member from the disability support office to discuss accommodations and campus procedures to obtain such services.

5. Arrange for other support not provided by college (e.g., housing, attendant care, equipment repair and transportation).

6. Investigate community agencies that provide support to persons with disabilities (e.g., Department of Rehabilitation, The Regional Center).

7. Be aware that you need to purchase your textbooks. Visit the campus bookstore or college website for specific prices. If the Department of Rehabilitation pays for your books, contact your DR counselor for the correct form and procedure. Inquire about online resources to purchase discounted textbooks.

Check in with the Disability Support Office

1. Inquire about an orientation for disability support services.

2. Plan classes with an academic advisor/counselor. Review your selections with the disability support office. It is advisable to buy a current college catalog or view online to review campus procedures.

3. Register as early as possible, especially if you need assistive technology or interpreting/Real Time captioning services. If you need your materials in alternate format (enlarged print, e-text, audio, Braille) request them as soon as possible from the disability support office.

4. Ask the disability support office to help you learn more about other support services offered on campus, e.g., tutoring, writing lab, computer lab, and/or counseling center.

Verification of Disability

Verification is written proof that an individual has a current disability. Verification of the disability is the responsibility of each student seeking accommodations and services. The verification must be provided by a licensed professional in a disability-related field. Once your disability is verified, you may request accommodations.

Application Process to Receive Disability Support Services

High school students frequently think they are automatically eligible for disability related accommodations at college. It is important to understand that this is not true. Under Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, you must complete the following steps:

1. Apply for services at disability support office.

2. Provide current written verification from an appropriate professional that:
a. names the disability.
b. identifies educational limitations that the disability causes.
c. identifies reasonable accommodations.

According to federal laws, you must identify the reasonable accommodations you want from the college.

Self-Advocacy

Take some time to think about explaining your disability and accommodations to a professor or counselor. What would you say?

Use the following sample dialogue.

Sample Academic Accommodations Dialogue

Student:

My name is ___________. I have a verified disability. Here is my paperwork, which verifies my disability, and shows my authorized academic accommodations. My disability causes the following problems in learning: ___________.

Student:

I’d like to discuss some academic accommodations that I need: ___________.
(Include only those that apply to you. See the list below.)

1. Getting a note taker:

I need your help in finding a student who takes good notes in this class. The disability support office will provide paper for the note taker to use. Would you help me find someone who takes good notes?

2. Tape recording a lecture:

I am authorized to have a tape recorder to record your lecture. I will only use it for my personal study purposes.

3. Extended Test Times:

I would like to discuss the accommodation of extended time on exams. The disability support office offers someone to oversee or proctor tests in their offices. I can arrange to take the tests through their office, or we can work out extra time or alternate arrangements. How would you like to organize this?

4. Quiet Environment:

Because I am easily distracted, I need to take tests/quizzes in a quiet environment. I can use the disability support office or we can work out alternate arrangements.

* To the Student:

Practice what you are going to say to your instructors; BE POLITE. You should discuss and work out the accommodations together. If instructors do not agree with your accommodations, then politely thank them for their time and leave. Then contact your disability support office or your 504/ADA Coordinators for help in resolving disability related accommodations.
Helpful Hints

1. Obtain a college catalog and class schedule to use and reference throughout your entire college career.

2. Balance your schedule:
   - Plan a study schedule. 1 hour in class = 2 to 3 hours of study time outside of class.
   - If you are employed, make sure you have enough hours to balance both work and study time.
   - Do not overload your schedule with too many classes. Remember, if you are taking 12 units you are considered a full-time student.
   - Plan your classes with an academic counselor. It is important to have a written plan of the classes you are going to take in the coming semesters.
   - It is important to take classes you are interested in as well as classes you are required to take. For example, you may want to take an Art class along with your Math and English courses so that you have a balanced schedule. Bring this up when you are planning your classes with an academic counselor.

3. Attend all of your class meetings. In college, missing one class meeting can put you behind for an entire week. If you must be absent, ask a classmate if you can copy his/her notes and talk to your instructor about any missed work. Refer to your class syllabi for more information regarding your instructors’ late policy.

4. Maintain academic progress: a “C” average or a 2.0 grade point average. Students who have GPA’s lower than a 2.0 can be placed on academic probation, disqualified, or may not be eligible for certain scholarships, financial aid, transferring and/or graduation.

5. Use the tutoring centers and take advantage of specialized classes and workshops.

6. Keep a calendar of all appointments, exams and assignment due dates. DO NOT SCHEDULE APPOINTMENTS DURING CLASS.

7. Use campus resources and student services.
Glossary
